

Integrated Catchment Delivery events:

Photos – Institute of Fisheries Management workshop: connecting rivers, people and partnerships

Contact: karen.twine@environment-agency.gov.uk 02030 259 497
21st March 2018, Venue: Loughborough University

Shared workshop goals

1. Inspiring and motivating people to achieve effective fish passage projects
2. To enable better understanding of fish passages and the wider benefits to people and wildlife, including working to shared visions and common goals
3. How to open up fish passage innovatively by working with others
4. Identifying solutions to overcome barriers to delivery and how to capitalise on future opportunities
5. Connecting people to make this happen

60 people attended enjoying listening to experiences and exchanging learning

Session 1. Connecting rivers and partnerships, Chair: Ian Welby Trent Rivers Trust

- Improving ecological connectivity, overview - Martyn Lucas, University of Durham
- Unlocking the Severn, partnership working - Richard Harrison, Canal and Rivers Trust

Session 2. Evaluation and opportunities, Chair: John Rumble, Hertfordshire County Council

- Creamery weir removal, lessons learned - Claire Rodgers, RoyalHaskoningDHV
- Appraising and evaluating fish passes - Jonathan Bolland, Hull International Fisheries Institute
- Wissey siphon fish pass - Kye Jerrom, Environment Agency

- Steve Lawrie, Environment Agency facilitates one of the breakout sessions discussing strategies to achieve large scale catchment wide projects. Part of the purpose from this is informing the Trent Gateway project

Lunch and poster session, delegates also visited Loughborough University's flume

Integrated Catchment Delivery Events purpose:

Over 400 people have attended the first seven events, this has enabled us to:

- Share evidence, good practice and embed learning at a catchment scale and
- Build future relationships between communities, institutes and partnerships

Outputs available after the event on the River Restoration Centre website:

- Presentations
- Web links to useful information

*Thank you for coming, safe journey and please hand in feedback form

Thank you to our Sponsors for making this workshop free to attend

