

Working to restore & enhance our rivers

— — — — Call for Abstracts — — — —

River Restoration Centre 13th Annual Network Conference

Delivering River Restoration: Recipes for Success

Large catchment-scale plans are now being implemented, though delivery of river restoration measures is happening increasingly at the local scale.

With building momentum and pressure to get results quickly, there is an urgent need to disseminate practical examples of both the nuts and bolts of what is being implemented on the ground, and how to coordinate this work effectively.

For 2012's conference, we are seeking high quality presentations on all aspects of practical solutions concerning:

- The processes of managing partnerships and projects -
- Getting your feet wet – what goes on in the channel -
- Valuing the benefits of river restoration -

For further details of the topics, please see the attached abstract submission form

Abstracts must be received by the 26th of September 2011

Thursday the 19th of April 2012

University of Nottingham, England