

RRC Bulletin

April 2020 - Issue 102

RRC is still operating as usual - the team is working from home. We are still available to answer your river restoration queries & support you remotely. Currently we are postponing all fieldwork but can pencil in visits later in the year. Our previously scheduled training course dates are now postponed until further notice but we are adapting the content to be able to run the majority of 1-day courses online.

RRC TRAINING COURSES GOING ONLINE

We will shortly be offering some of our existing training courses online. Please email us to register your interest in these online courses.

Forthcoming publication The Complex Lives of British Freshwater Fishes, to be published in May!

The book explores the fascinating life histories of Britain's freshwater fishes, showing how they provide food, ornamentation, sport and cultural identity, and highlighting their huge importance for conservation as part of the living ecosystems upon which we all depend. The book features over 100 full-colour photographs by pioneering photographer and filmmaker Jack Perks, whose work has featured on BBC Springwatch, The One Show and Countryfile. The book is available for pre-order now.
