

RRC Bulletin

January 2022 - Issue 121

RRC Conference Call for Abstracts Open!

The RRC Annual Network Conference will be held on 28th & 29th June 2022 at Chesford Grange, Warwickshire. The conference captures a wide range of presentations to provoke thought and discussion on how we manage our rivers and catchments, how we restore natural processes, and how we engage with rivers. Submit your 150 word abstract now for your chance to be part of an exciting, interesting and engaging programme.

***Deadline 28th February*****

Find out more

Training course programme & Site Visits

Check out our series of training courses and site visits! Register interest in courses to find out more information about bookings.

23 rd February 2022	Advanced Hydromorphology (Level 3)
March - April 2022	River Habitat Survey Certification ( hybrid online &amp; fieldwork in Wales )
16 th March 2022	Introduction to Hydromorphology (Level 1)
30 th March 2022	Putting Ecology into River Restoration: An Introduction
13 th April 2022	Site Visit: Allt Lorgy, Scottish Highlands
4 th May 2022	Site Visit: Afon Merin, Ceridigion, Wales

Find out more

New multi-million pound projects to conserve Welsh rivers and bogs

River Restoration Job Opportunities

Senior Project Officer \(River & Catchment Restoration\) at South East Rivers Trust

Project Officer \(River & Catchment Restoration\) at South East Rivers Trust

Nature-based Solutions Specialist at Atkins

Fish Passage Specialist at Atkins

Latest news and events

We would like to thank

and our core funders for their continued support

