

RRC Bulletin

March 2019 - Issue 90

2019 UK RIVER PRIZE FINALISTS

Following the judging of the 2019 UK River Prize, we are happy to announce the 4 finalists. The winner will be announced at the Awards Dinner on April 30th at the Britannia Adelphi Hotel in Liverpool. Thank you to all applicants.

ARUP south east water

SEPA
Scottish Environment Protection Agency

Cyfoeth Naturiol Cymru
Natural Resources Wales

Finalist	Recognised for	Lead applicant
River Bulbourne, Hertfordshire	Urban Communities Project	Environment Agency
River Nairn, Scottish Highlands	Restoring Natural Processes	Aberarder Estate
New Forest Wetlands, Hampshire	Catchment-scale Project	Forestry Commission
River Otter, Devon	Innovative Approach	Devon Wildlife Trust

Find out more

2019 RRC CONFERENCE KEYNOTE SPEAKER ANNOUNCED

This year the keynote speaker will be Colin Thorne, Professor of Physical Geography at the University of Nottingham. Colin is a river scientist who has been involved in river restoration projects in the UK, USA and many other countries worldwide.

There is still time to book your place at the 2019 RRC Conference in Liverpool on April 30th & May 1st.

Find out more

RRC TRAINING COURSES & SITE VISIT

Course	Date	Location
Developing a Catchment-wide River Restoration Plan	29th May	Birmingham
Mapping Historical Floodplains using Hydrogeomorphological Survey	3rd July	Cranfield University,
Mapping Surface Runoff and Flood Storage Opportunities for NFM	4th July	Bedfordshire
Introduction to Hydromorphology	June TBC	TBC
Love Your River Telford Site Visit	22nd May	Shropshire

Find out more

NEWS & EVENTS

Job Opportunity: Catchment Partnership Manager at Wessex Chalk Stream and Rivers Trust

Manual of River Restoration techniques update...watch this space

More news and events

We would like to thank  and our core funders for their continued support

For questions, feedback or to remove your name from our mailing list, email or call us 01234 752979.